Local Rustlings.

Tons of new goods arriving at C. Doyle's.

Trade in a general way is getting more brisk.

The public schools appear to be doing nicely.

Foster's cold wave doesn't seem to materialize.

Yes, we need another railroad. Will we get it?

The 'Wink social appears to have been omitted this week.

Never bet on the elections. It is wrong. You might lose.

The old RUSTLER office front has received a new coat of paint.

If you want a good paper for the winter, subscribe for the RUSTLER.

More coal will be shipped from Cerrillos this winter than ever before.

Men with money to take hold of and develop our resources, is what we need.

Invitations are out for a ball at Hurt's Hall to-night. A good time is expected.

Mine Host Hammond, of the Cash Entry Hotel, is a daily visitor to our markets.

Santa Fe is to have a home talent dramatic entertainment. They talk some of coming to Cerrillos.

These gun men should be looked after. This shooting up the town should be a thing of the past.

Joe Stinson has opened up club rooms at the Exchange hotel, Santa Fe, where he has commodious and pleasant quarters.

Be sure to call and see the extensive stock of underwear for ladies, gents and children, just received at J. H. Gerdes & Co's.

Besser Bros. have rented the old RUSTLER office, of the Hurt estate, and will open out in the feed, flour and produce business.

Stewart & Graham have leased the Keesee mine and will engage actively in the coal business, shipping both hard and soft coal.

The extension of the narrow gauge is the only salvation for Santa Fe. Let her people see that there is no foolishness about it.

Sefarino Rivera and Margarita Padia, of Bonanza, were united in marriage at Santa Fe, Wednesday. A grand ball followed at Bonanza, Wednesday evening.

Pittsburgh, Kansas has built up from a village with far less pretensions than Cerrillos, in a few years to a manufacturing town of 10,000 people. Smelters did it.

The best line of Clothing ever brought to Cerrillos, can now be found at J. H. Gerdes & Co's. Dry Goods and Clothing house, and every day is adding to the stock on hand.

There is considerable stir among local mine operators in efforts to put in new machinery and get their works on a better footing. This is a progressive move and one which, had it been sprung a year ago, would now double our coal output.

During the tin-horn battle last Saturday night in which no one appears to have been hurt, though eight or ten shots were fired at close range, one ball passed through W. P. Gould's window, in a very dangerous locality for the family had they not have retired for the night.

With the Santa Fe Southern extended to White Oaks, and the Roswell and Eddy country—and better yet, giving us Texas connections with the Deep Water harbors along the gulf, Cerrillos would become one of the most important towns of the Southwest.

The advertisement of the Colorado Iron Works can be seen on the opposite page. This is one of the largest machine manufacturing concerns in the west, and we take great pleasure in recommending these works to those intending the purchase of mining machinery.

Messrs. Ames & Gould, our popular and enterprising produce dealers, have become agents for C. A. Marsh & Co's. high grade patent flour, of Turon Kansas—so well and favorably known here. They have also just received a large shipment of new corn meal and Graham flour. They receive almost every day, carloads of Hay, grain, potatoes, flour or lumber for Cerrillos and San Pedro trade.

The wagon track along the coal siding, since the slack and dirt has been taken away down to the railroad track level, is very soft and should be given a good foundation of broken rock or coarse gravel. In places it is almost impossible for teams to pull a load through. A good graveling or macadamizing would make it good for all time and the railroad company could well afford to keep this siding in good repair.

Wedding bells rang out joyfully Tuesday night. The little god had blushed crimson as he fired his last shaft, then fainted dead away. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Edward Baker and Mrs. Patience Nesbitt. Rev. Jennings adjusted the cord and with deft fingers, tied the silken knot. There were no wedding guests save a few special friends. After the ceremony the bride and groom retired home, but were soon visited by a host of our young folks who were received and socially entertained, the visitors uniting in extending congratulations to the happy couple.

North and Rogers have the derrick up ready for boring for water, but are greatly disappointed at the action of the board in not granting the franchise asked. As to the real merits of the case, this paper is not posted sufficiently to discuss them at any length. That any parties who go to the trouble and expense of procuring machinery and boring for artesian water or gas, merit the encouragement, protection and applause of our people and little municipality, is beyond question. Of course mistakes have been made in towns granting exclusive and long time franchise for water or transportation privileges, and the town in this way might be made to suffer for years, so due prudence on the part of the board cannot be too highly commended. This however should not end the matter. The questions of procuring water and natural gas are of the greatest importance to Cerrillos, and every reasonable encouragement and protection should be given to the man or men with enterprise enough to undertake and carry out such an experiment. The matter should be thoroughly considered by both sides and satisfactory agreements entered into—satisfactory and safe to all concerned.

We are fully prepared with the best of everything in the dry goods line for fall and winter wear.
J. H. GERDES & Co.

Concentrates.

The Parnell mining claim, adjoining the Lincoln-Lucky, at San Pedro, is to sell to-morrow.

The St. Louis money with which to run the Cerrillos Coal & Iron Company, doesn't seem to have materialized.

One of our dozen or more coal dealers shipped 175 car loads of coal last month. He was not the largest shipper, either.

The Colorado Fuel Co., is becoming an important factor in our coal industry, and may become of much greater importance.

The mining outlook all around is getting better. Of course little disappointments will come, but they will only serve to clear the way for larger successes.

Maj. Curtis and party have found some desirable properties in the Cerrillos Mining district, which they will likely make immediate arrangements to work.

H. D. Benton, who is working on the Hattie mine at Dolores, was in town today. He is drifting below the former working, and reports the ore looking fine.

S. P. Conger is in town this week, resting quietly pending the settlement of the San. Lazarus mine muddle. He says if the matter is not settled very soon he will work the mine, out of which he can now take gold to the amount of $3,000 every ten days, with the one Huntington mill.

There is no field which offers more room for improvement than the manufacture of mining machinery, and it is safe to say that no class of invention is receiving more attention or being improved more rapidly. With the present rate of progress it will not be many years until it will be impossible for the most minute particles of the precious metals to hide in any of the formations, no difference how massive or refractory.

San Pedro Rustlings.

San Pedro public school is doing nicely.

W. C. Rogers is now manufacturing coke for San Pedro.

Ladies' trimmed and untrimmed hats at G. Z. & Co's.

J. M. Evans has returned from Santa Fe, improved in health.

Latest styles in all kinds of Ladies Dress Goods, just arrived at G. Z. & Co's.

R. W. Wooten, of Cerrillos, is now an engineer at the Copper Company's works.

The copper company has a large amount of matte on hand for shipment. The steady running of the smelters has been prevented for lack of coke.

Joe Coleman is driving the stage a few days this week for Wm. Atchison. On account of sickness he laid off from the smelter last week and made a trip to Glorieta.

The people of San Pedro will have good cause to rejoice when a railroad is built to our camp. We all want to hear the whistle. It will mean lively times for this burg.

Call on G. Z. & Co. They have now a complete stock of Dry Goods, Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods. They also take measures for Mills & Averills, St. Louis, and F. Kaufmann, Chicago.

R. Y. Anderson returned from Denver Monday, bringing a lot of the "necessary" to scatter among the employees of the Lincoln-Lucky. The mine will soon again be a producer and heavy shipper.

Teaming between San Pedro and the railroad is fairly brisk, the merchandise arriving, matte hauling over and coke hauling, employing a good number of teams. When the Lincoln-Lucky begins shipping ore it will seem like boom times again.

The Cañon del Agua case pending in the supreme court at Washington, has been postponed by agreement, to be taken up when the parties are ready. The ultimate outlook for the case is not so favorable as could be hoped, but as the grant is not patented the government may win.

Personal Rustlings.

Daniel Taylor was in from Dolores camp Sunday.

Thos. P. Gable was a visitor from Santa Fe yesterday.

Messrs. Graves & Stoddard were in from Dolores Wednesday.

Geo. Green and W. B. Tipton started for San Pedro section on a hunt, yesterday.

Mrs. E. B. Ames and baby, and Mrs. Jackson, started this morning to visit friends at Glorieta.

Mrs. Coleman is making her canvass for funds to put a new roof on the Catholic church, this week.

Charley Lyons who was assistant door keeper of the last New Mexico comsolilama, is on a trip to Colorado.

C. F. Wilson, late of San Pedro, came in the first of the week to borrow a dollar of the editor. Don't faint—he got it.

M. Katzenberg, representing Lowenthal & Meyers, Albuquerque's big wholesale liquor and cigar firm, visited Cerrillos and San Pedro this week.

Mrs. C. W. Uptegrove returned from her trip to California, Saturday of last week, after having spent a very pleasant two weeks, visiting in San Diego.

Mr. Huhn came in yesterday from the Cash Entry camp. He will leave this month most probably for California, but will come back occasionally in the interest of his property.

Mr. E. T. Webber, of Denver, casually remarked to the editor of this paper yesterday: "There is no reason why you should not have 5000 miners at work around Cerrillos. The resources are abundant to employ that number of men."

Dolores Mill Leased.

We learn from a reliable source that the Fisk mill at Dolores has been leased for the unexpired term under which it was operated by Mr. Everett, and that Messrs. Graves & Stoddard will at once put it in operation, fully equipped with the latest improved machinery, included in which is the Nord pulvizer, which recently arrived from New York. We also learn that other important mining deals are pending on properties near Dolores.

Town Board.

The board of town trustees held its regular meeting Wednesday night, transacting little except routine business. The water franchise asked by Mr. North was refused. It may be reconsidered at some future meeting. It was arranged by the board to meet hereafter at the old postoffice building. A. M. Anderson was appointed to fill the city clerk vacancy. Adjourned to next regular meeting.

Grace Eden's Troubles.

Grace Eden, the "Georgia Wonder," who has traveled over this country for a long time as the wife of Dr. Gillespie, the painless dentist, and who has just found out she wasn't married to him, has either been most unfortunate or has worked her "wonder" on Col. Albright, of the Albuquerque Democrat, Col. Frost, of the New Mexican and a few other newspaper men who delight in being hypnotized. Her story to the Democrat is one of abuse from the painless fiend whom she has been supporting by the most snide exhibitions ever sought to be inflicted upon a credulous public. If her story is true, the poor girl is entitled to sympathy, and whether true or not, it would probably be a credit to any community to give the Dr. a touch of healthy discipline. The fact remains that the whole thing may be nothing. Instead of going far away from him as she declared to be her intention when leaving Albuquerque last week, she went to Santa Fe and back to Albuquerque, followed by the Doctor, still insisting however that she had done with him.

A nice line of Boots and Shoes at Goodman, Zeigler & Co's.

EXTENSION TALK.

The Santa Fe Southern Looking for More Territory.

A meeting of citizens was called informally Tuesday morning to make some arrangement for the reception and entertainment of the Santa Fe Southern railroad people who were to make a trip over their survey through the southern part of the county, to get a better idea of the resources along the line of their proposed extension. A good number of our citizens and business men assembled at the office of the Grand Central hotel, and after choosing C. W. Uptegrove to act as chairman and Dr. Bishop for secretary, proceeded to business.

Hon. Chas. F. Easley being requested, explained that as it was understood that Mr. E. R. Chapman, of New York, holding a high financial and official position in the control and management of the Santa Fe Southern, had arrived at Santa Fe, and in company with General Melly and others would make a trip to Cerrillos and San Pedro, it was but proper that some arrangements be made to meet the gentlemen, entertain them and show them our resources.

Edward Baker then moved that a committee of five be appointed to make all necessary arrangements, and the motion carrying, W. H. Kennedy, Chas. F. Easley, Tony Neils, W. C. Rogers and A. M. Anderson were appointed as such committee, and authorized to make the best arrangements they could in the matter.

The committee, ascertaining when the gentlemen expected to arrive, met and escorted them to the Grand Central, where dinner was served, after which the visitors, Messrs. E. R. Chapman, E. T. Webber, L. M. Melly and R. W. Webb, were first shown over town, then taken the length of the long coal tracks where many wagons were filling the freight cars with our famous anthracite and bituminous coals. After admiring the quality of the coal on track, they started for San Pedro, accompanied by Messrs. C. F. Easley, W. H. Kennedy, Tony Neils and W. C. Rogers, of the Cerrillos committee. On the road they will thoroughly inspect the coal fields, and upon arriving at San Pedro, they will be taken in charge by citizens of that place and shown the resources around the gold, copper and carbonate camp. The party expect to return here tonight to attend a banquet and ball.

Aside from the magnificent inducements offered for the extension of this road from Santa Fe, it is hinted that a prospective coal deal by Colorado parties, may make the road's extension still more advantageous and remunerative. As it is, extended to San Pedro by way of Cerrillos and her coal fields, the line would pay at once, even before the great developments which would immediately follow, should many fold increase the business offered from present prospects. When once the road is completed to San Pedro it would have an easy route across the plain to White Oaks, and thence to Texas. Then by running a spur down Tijeras cañon from San Pedro to Albuquerque, a distance of 40 miles, the D. & R. G., system would have direct connections with all of the West, Southwest and Northwest, and the new line would be of especial importance to Denver and intervening points, as a deep water artery.

Mr. Chapman appears quite enthusiastic over his trip here, the warm reception tendered himself and party and the apparently exhaustless quality of our resources.

Notice.

Thos. P. Gable is no longer in my employ as manager of my undertaking business, and is not authorized to receive any money or give any receipts for money on account of any bill due for undertaking.
A. T. GUNGG.
Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 23, 1891.

MORE GONE!

Lee White and two others Escape from the Pen—Commissioners Act.

Lee White, our local hold-up, along with convicts Gould, Petrolino Rivera and Francisco Padilla, escaped from the penitentiary at Santa Fe, Monday afternoon. The prisoners had whittled out wooden pistols, covered them with tin foil from their tobacco, and choosing a time when there was teams in the prison yards, charged the teamsters with their imitation guns, ran them off, cut the harness from four of Reser's horses and mounting, rode for the gates, flourishing the ominous wooden guns at the surprised and no doubt terrified guards at the entrance. Lee White and the two Mexican convicts made good their escape. One of the guards, finally remembering that he had a shot gun in his hands, fired at Gould and a spent shot striking him on the elbow, both he and his wooden gun were captured.

Since the escape searches have found the three horses belonging to Mr. Reser, that were taken by the escaped convicts. One was found near Cerrillos. All were loose and wandering around, and all showed hard usage. They had evidently been ridden as long as they could go, and then abandoned.

The board of penitentiary directors was in session at the time of the escape, concluding their session the following day. In the meantime Warden Chavez becoming disgusted with the way things was running and the hard luck that has appeared to follow his superintendency, tendered his resignation to take effect December 2nd. The same was received and accepted by the board. In further reference to the escape, assistant superintendent Bergman was authorized to employ a new set of guards, Col. Chavez concurring therein.

Every man in any way connected with the escape of White and his companions, were ordered discharged from the service. Frank Rankin, Wm. Cole, W. L. Evans, Joe Blonger and Barney Speers, experienced men, were ordered put on in the place of those dismissed.

The appointment of a new superintendent was postponed until the 20th.

Handle it Carefully.

The refunding of the Santa Fe southern bonds, for which a railroad was to have been built through the county, but for which only 28 miles of road was built from Espinola to Santa Fe—starting at "nowhere" and ending at the "jumping off place," is a matter that our county board should handle carefully. If the road has been built according to agreement, accept its work and pay. If it hasn't, go slow, and compel its builders to comply with their contract. Someone is very anxious that these bonds shall be refunded and the present talk and action about extending the road, may be only a part of the play to get them refunded. Our people want the road extended and the field for its extension, considering the great territory between Santa Fe, Lincoln and Eddy, is the best that has ever remained open to any road, but they have the right, for self protection to ask and expect some guarantee that the extension will be made, and no man's word nor no company's word is a guarantee. A promise, the carrying out of which involves the expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars, goes for nothing. It is true, perhaps, that these bonds, already issued, are a part of the county's indebtedness, but it surely seems that their delivery on the plain non-fulfillment of a contract, is a piece of rascality that should yet be remedied if there is a possible show. What we ask is that the people be given the best show possible, for they have taken the worst of it long enough.
